Standing by until Temeraire crossed, which she did two minutes and fifteen seconds later, the fleet closed in on victor and vanquished and accompanied them up the river. For an hour the demonstration was the noisiest ever heard at Charlotte. Cannons boomed, bombs exploded in midair, horns and whistles added their strident noises to the din, while immense crowds lined the piers and cheered themselves hoarse. 12:31:45 12:32:42 First Round-Start. Friday night saw a jollification at the clubhouse in which Canadians joined as heartily as their American friends. The big building was brilliantly illuminated from top to bottom, and the parlors were decorated with flags and banners, palms and flowers. In the center of the main saloon stood the handsome Canada s cup filled to the brim with champagne from which those present drank the health of crews, skippers, designers, judges and every other official connected with the big event just finished. Commodore Pritchard commenced the speech-making, paying a high tribute to the sportsmanship of the Toronto and Hamilton yachtsmen. Rear Commodore Nichols, owner of Temeraire, followed, dwelling briefly but earnestly upon the excellent hospitality accorded himself and fellow guests during the races. Aemilius Jarvis echoed Mr. Nichols s remarks and...
