While the choir was making a stupendous din out of something they called an anthem, Octave slipped off to his Rushford duty, through the chancel-door. Then, with his silken gown on - given him years ago by subscription, and far too grand for him to wear, except at Christmas and Easter - John Rosedew mounted the pulpit-stairs, and showed (as in a holy bower of good-will and of gratitude) the loving-kindness of his face and the grandeur of his forehead. As he glanced from one to the other with a general welcome, a genial interest in the welfare both of soul and body, a stir and thrill ran through the church, and many eyes were tearful. For already a rumour was abroad that Uncle John must leave them, that another Christmas Day would see a stranger...
