ADVENT OF LORD DUFFERIN--THE PACIFIC RAILWAY SCANDAL--MR. HUNTINGDON'S CHARGES--SIR HUGH ALLAN'S OWN STATEMENT OF THE FACTS. The Earl Of Dufferin, the new Governor-General, had a keen eye for the spectacular, and opened the first session of the second Canadian Parliament on March 5th and 6th, 1873, with surpassing pomp and ceremony. His Lordship was evidently much gratified by the enthusiastic reception which greeted him and his large and brilliant staff on reaching Parliament Hill. The noble Parliamentary buildings with their magnificent central tower; the fine military display by the the Governor-Generals Foot Guards and the mounted cavalry; the thousands of prominent and well-dressed people who crowded the Senate Chamber and the corridors and passages leading thereto; and the still greater number of citizens who crowded the terrace outside and much of the great Parliamentary square, made up a very grand and imposing scene....
