Job. viii. 8 - 10. As our thoughts travel back on such a day as this over the history of our College, it is natural to reflect on the principles which it symbolises, the manner in which it has fulfilled its end in successive generations, the results of faithful labour and generous sacrifice which are embodied in its ordered life, its buildings, its prosperity, its very existence, and to seek to deepen thereby our own sense of responsibility. The past and its lessons are brought home to us with singular vividness when we follow the fortunes of a single place, or institution. A thread is supplied like that of our own personal identity, running through our experiences from...
